JOURNAL OF EDUCATIONAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL CONSULTATION, 10(4), 401–404
Copyright © 1999, Lawrence Erlbaum Associates, Inc.

Index to Volume 10 (1999)

A

Aldrich, S. D., Bousted, R., & Heskett, J. Implications of integrated, school-linked human services for state systems, 273–283.

Allison, R., see Noell, 107–128.

Auffrey, C., Fritz, J. M., Lin, B., & Bistak, P. Exploring differences between violent and nonviolent juvenile offenders using juvenile corrections facility client records, 129–144.

B

Bahamonde, C., & Friend, M. Teaching English language learners: A proposal for effective service delivery through collaboration and coteaching, 1–24.

Bailey, J., see Kressel, 51–82.

Bistak, P., see Auffrey, 129–144.

Bousted, R., see Aldrich, 273–283.

C

Cooper, P. Demographic and social backdrop: How changes in society support the need for a services integration perspective to service delivery in schools and communities, 201–214.

D

Davenport, J., Reid, D. K., & Fortner, A. K. Systematic practitioner discourses: Implications for consultation between general and special educators, 25–50.

Delametre, J., see McNamara, 343–362.

F

Forman, S., see Kressel, 51–82.
Fortner, A. K., see Davenport, 25–50.
Friend, M., see Bahamonde, 1–24.
Fritz, J. M., see Auffrey, 129–144.

G

Gansle, K. A., see Noell, 107–128.

H

Heskett, J., see Aldrich, 273–283.

J

Jehl, J. Comprehensive services for children and families: The federal role, 285–300.

K

Kolbe, L. J., Talley, R. C., & Short, R. J. Integrating education, health, social services for young people: Current status and future directions, 301–318.
Kressel, K., Bailey, J., & Forman, S. Psychological consultation in higher education: Lessons from a university faculty development center, 51–82.

L

Lawson, N. W. Journey analysis: A framework for integrating consultation and evaluation in complex change initiatives, 145–172.
Lin, B., see Auffrey, 129–144.

M

McNamara, K., Telzrow, C., & Delametre, J. Parent reactions to implementation of intervention-based assessment, 343–362.

N

Noell, G. H., Gansle, K. A., & Allison, K. Do you see what I see? Teachers' and school psychologists' evaluations of naturally occurring consultation cases, 107–128.

O

Orland, M. E. Financing more integrated children and family services: Current practices and opportunities for reform, 251–271.

P

Prilleltensky, I., Walsh-Bowers, R., & Rossiter, A. Clinicians' lived experience of ethics: Values and challenges in helping children, 315–342.

R

Reid, D. K., see Davenport, 25–50.
Rossiter, A., see Prilleltensky, 315–342.

S

Schrag, J. A., see Talley, 229–249.
Short, R. J., see Kolbe, 301–318.
Short, R. J., & Talley, R. C. Services integration and school health: An introduction, 193–200.
Simeonsson, N. E., see Simeonsson, 215–228.
Simeonsson, R. J., & Simeonsson, N. E. Designing community based school health services for at-risk students, 215–218.

T

Talley, R. C., see Kolbe, 301–318.
Talley, R. C., see Short, 193–200.
Talley, R. C., & Schrag, J. A. Legal and public policy foundations supporting service integration for students with disabilities, 229–249.
Telzrow, C., see McNamara, 343–362.

W

Walsh-Bowers, R., see Prilleltensky, 315–342.